ANNUAL MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | For the Year Ended March 31, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

June 5, 2023

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook in the year ended March 31, 2023 (the "period"). If the Fund was established during the period, "period" represents the period since inception.

In this report, "Mackenzie" and "the Manager" refer to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the Fund. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Please read A Note on Forward-Looking Statements on the first page of this document.

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks income with the potential for long-term capital growth by investing primarily in a portfolio of Chinese fixed income securities issued by companies or governments.

Risk

The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's Simplified Prospectus.

The Fund is suitable for medium-term investors looking for a Chinese fixed income fund to hold as part of their portfolio, who can handle the volatility of bond markets and who have a low to medium tolerance for risk.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of all series in the current and previous periods is shown in the Past Performance section of the report. Performance will vary by series primarily because fees and expenses differ between series, or because securities of a series were not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period. Please refer to the Fund Formation and Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by each series. The following comparison to market indices is intended to help investors understand the Fund's performance relative to the general performance of the markets. However, the Fund's mandate may be different from that of the indices shown.

During the period, the Fund's Series A securities returned 5.0% (after deducting fees and expenses paid by the series). This compares with a return of 2.6% for the Fund's new blended index, which is composed of a 35% weighting in the Fund's broad-based index, the Bloomberg China Treasury + Policy Bank Index (returned 3.3%), a 35% weighting in the Bloomberg China Treasury + Policy Bank (Hedged) Index (returned 4.4%), and a 30% weighting in the Bloomberg Asia Ex-Japan USD Credit China High Yield (Hedged) Index (returned -3.6%). The new blended index better reflects the currency strategy of the Fund. Effective February 16, 2023, it replaced the Fund's previous blended index (returned 4.7%), which was composed of a 70% weighting in the Bloomberg China Treasury + Policy Bank Index and a 30% weighting in the Bloomberg Asia Ex-Japan USD Credit China High Yield Index (returned 5.0%). All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

Pandemic-related lockdowns and declining exports favoured the Chinese government bond market over the period until the reversal of the government's "zero-COVID-19" policy in December. The property sector was under stress as both fundamentals and market sentiment dampened the performance of offshore Chinese high-yield bonds offered by real estate issuers. Following economic reopening, however, offshore corporate bonds started to rebound. The Chinese yuan ended the period unchanged relative to the Canadian dollar.

The Fund outperformed the broad-based index, with its underweight exposure to government bonds and allocation to corporate bonds in the real estate sector contributing to performance. Given the Fund's mandate, the return of a blended index is a more meaningful comparison.

The Fund outperformed both the new blended index and the previous blended index, with overweight exposure to industrial sector corporate bonds contributing to performance. A longer duration (higher sensitivity to interest rates) within onshore bonds as yields fell earlier in the period, and shorter duration later in the period, contributed to performance.

Conversely, the carry return (the interest paid by a bond minus the interest costs of short-term borrowing) on onshore bonds detracted from performance relative to both the new blended index and the previous blended index. Underweight exposure to local government financing vehicle ("LGFV") bonds and financial sector corporate bonds also detracted from performance.

Hedging of foreign currency exposure contributed to performance relative to the previous blended index as a result of the overall depreciation of the hedged currencies relative to the Canadian dollar.

Over the period, the portfolio management team increased exposure to Chinese corporate bonds and decreased exposure to foreign government bonds based on relative valuations. The Fund's cash position also decreased as a result.

Net Assets

The Fund's net assets increased by 5.5% during the period to $21.3 million. This change was composed primarily of $1.0 million in net income (including any interest and/or dividend income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, and an increase of $0.1 million due to net securityholder activity (including sales, redemptions and cash distributions).

Fees and Expenses

The management expense ratio ("MER") for each series during the year ended March 31, 2023, was generally similar to the annualized MER for the period ended March 31, 2022. Total expenses paid vary from period to period mainly as a result of changes in average assets in each series. The MER for Series D decreased due to a decrease in the management fee rate effective April 4, 2022, as noted in the Fund Formation and Series Information section of the report. The MERs for all series are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report.

Recent Developments

At the start of 2023, Chinese regulators highlighted "stabilizing growth and boosting confidence" as top priorities, and the government began to shore up support for the private sector, in particular the property market and private-equity platform companies. The portfolio management team expects the People's Bank of China to maintain ample liquidity in the fixed income market, although conditions may still tighten marginally.

As investors anticipate economic recovery and more policy stimulus, the team believes the yield curve may steepen, with long-term bond yields increasing more than short-term bond yields. Although yields may continue to rise, the team expects the corporate bond market to recover further, especially among property developers. In the team's opinion, quality high-yield bonds have already reached their lowest point and now offer investment opportunities.

Effective March 31, 2023, KPMG LLP was appointed as the auditor of the Fund.

Related Party Transactions

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to the Manager at the annual rates specified under Fund Formation and Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, the Manager pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund that are not included in management fees. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

Investment funds managed by Mackenzie and its affiliates may invest in the Fund. All these investments are made on a prospectus-exempt basis in accordance with the investment objectives of those funds. At March 31, 2023, funds managed by Mackenzie owned 6.9% of the Fund's NAV. All related party transactions are based on the NAV per security on each transaction day. As a result of these investments, the Fund may be subject to large transaction risk as discussed in the Prospectus. Mackenzie manages this risk to reduce the possibility of any adverse effect on the Fund or on its investors, through such processes as requiring advance notice of large redemptions.

At March 31, 2023, Mackenzie had an investment of $19.2 million in the Fund (90.3% of the Fund's NAV). If Mackenzie decides to redeem its investment, it will do so in a manner that reduces the possibility of adverse effects on the Fund.

The Manager relied on an approval provided by the Mackenzie Funds' Independent Review Committee to appoint KPMG LLP as the auditor of the Fund, effective March 31, 2023.

Past Performance

The Fund's past performance information is presented in the following charts and table. It assumes all distributions made by the Fund in the periods presented are reinvested in additional securities of the relevant series of the Fund. The charts and table do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges, or income taxes payable by any investor that would have reduced returns. The past performance of the Fund is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future.

If you hold this Fund outside of a registered plan, income and capital gains distributions paid to you increase your income for tax purposes whether paid to you in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund. The amount of reinvested taxable distributions is added to the adjusted cost base of the securities that you own. This would decrease your capital gain or increase your capital loss when you later redeem from the Fund, thereby ensuring that you are not taxed on this amount again. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your personal tax situation.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following bar charts present the performance of each series of the Fund for each of the fiscal periods shown. The charts show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each fiscal period, or on the series inception or reinstatement date, as applicable, would have increased or decreased by the last day of the fiscal period presented. Series inception or reinstatement dates can be found under Fund Formation and Series Information.

(1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.

(2) Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, income taxes and withholding taxes, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, except as noted. In the period a series is established, the MER is annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period. Where the Fund directly invests in securities of another fund (including exchange-traded funds or "ETFs"), the MERs presented for the Fund include the portion of MERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. Any income distributions received from ETFs managed by the Manager, with the intention of offsetting fees paid within those ETFs but which are not considered to be duplicative fees under regulatory requirements, are treated as waived expenses for MER purposes. The Manager may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.

(3) The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs incurred as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period. Where the Fund invests in securities of another fund (including ETFs), the TERs presented for the Fund include the portion of TERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the Fund is less than one year old. The value of any trades to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, is excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The management fee for each applicable series is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The Fund's management fees were used by Mackenzie in part to pay China Asset Management Company Ltd., an affiliate of the Manager, for investment advisory services, including managing the investment portfolio of the Fund and/or the underlying fund(s), as applicable, providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions and making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio. The Manager also used the management fees to fund sales commissions, trailing commissions and any other compensation (collectively "distribution-related payments") to registered dealers and brokers whose clients invest in the Fund.

The following dealers affiliated with the Manager may be entitled to distribution-related payments from the Manager on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation and Investors Group Financial Services Inc.

The Manager used approximately 42% of the total management fee revenues received from all Mackenzie funds during the period to fund distribution-related payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such distribution-related payments for the Fund represented on average 14% of the management fees paid by all applicable series of the Fund during the period. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions and sales commissions paid for that series.
